

Terms of participation

General

The participation in the international multimedia competition on "Sustainable Lifestyles and Climate Protection" requires the following entry rules.

Out of organisational reasons, all participants have to apply online following the links on www.klimaclima.org

Please note that we will need to receive the following data from every participant:

Name, Date of Birth, Address, E-Mail address, Telephone number.

Participation requirements

Young adults until the age of 30 are permitted to participate. You can apply as a single person or as a group.

Each piece of work has to be handed in by 11.59 PM on Saturday, the 15th of May, 2010.

Each person / each group is allowed to hand in only one poster/web-poster in one of the promoting countries Germany, Greece, Italy or Latvia. The posters and web-banners should deal with the current issues of the competition.

Members of all European countries are welcome to participate in the competition, though the submissions have to be in German, Greek, Italian, Latvian language, or subtitled in English.

Participants of the competition who are not resident in one of the countries mentioned above and hand in their work in English can choose in which one of the four countries, but only one of them, they hand in their works. Participants of the competition who are not resident in one of the countries mentioned above and hand in their work in one of the allowed languages have to apply in the respective country.

Format and technical requirements for turning in the contributions

We are looking for your contributions in the format of poster/web-banner which are tackling the issue of Climate change, everyday life and lifestyles. Your submission must not be older than two years.

Posters /Web-banners

An inspiring perspective of the topic with a maximum of 800x600 pixels. Contributions must be submitted as .psd, .pdd, .jpeg, .gif, .bmp, .pdf, .tif or .tiff. If you have produced a different file format, please make sure to convert it into one of the above. If you send your photo story as email, please make sure not to send files that are larger than 5 MB. If you send your posters /webbanners as CD or DVD, files can of course be larger. Please also note that your submission does not become binding before you received a confirmation to your email or to your CD/DVD.

You will also be able to directly upload your poster/web-banner at a secured area of the website. You will receive an entry code once you signed up for the competition. As soon as your contribution appears on the website www.klimaclima.com / www.klimaclima.org it counts as handed in for the competition and remains to the lead organizer.

It is also possible to send us your poster/web-banner in form of a CD or DVD and via post. Please make sure not to send printed versions of the photo stores because only in digital format they can be sent to the jury.

Please send your contributions to the following address:

Kolleg für Management und Gestaltung nachhaltiger Entwicklung gGmbH

"COOL Competition"

Reichenberger Str. 150

10999 Berlin

For any further technical questions please contact the lead organizer:

Kolleg für Management und Gestaltung nachhaltiger Entwicklung gGmbH

Anne Mette

amette@kmgne.de

0049 (0) 30 29367 940

Jury and Awards

The decision about the winners is taken by the jury members. The winners will be announced in at the beginning of Juli 2010 on the website www.klimaclima.org. The winners will be notified by the organisers.

Liability

The organizer of the competition will not take any responsibility for the loss or incompleteness of the contributed work pieces. This will only be the case if the loss or incompleteness of any competition material goes back to the negligent conduct of the organizer. This also includes the publishing through a third person out of technical mistakes during the transfer of data.

Copyright and Personal Rights

The participants grant the organiser simple rights of use for all known and unknown types of use to the contribution submitted by them for the purpose of participation in the competition, such rights being unlimited in terms of geographical location and time and being restricted in terms of content to the competition. This includes the right of duplication and distribution of the contribution on electronic/digital data media – including interactive media – and specifically DVD, CD, CD-ROM, video and the right of providing public access on the Internet and the right of projection. The rights of use are granted free of charge. The organiser shall be entitled to grant the aforementioned rights to third parties.

The participants hereby give an assurance that the contribution submitted are free of rights of third parties, e.g. copyright, other ancillary copyright, personal rights, and that the contribution is at their disposal to use it freely. As a precaution they indemnify the organiser for all claims of third parties which are based on the fact that the foregoing assurance does not apply.